Dear Collector:

Welcome to my sixteenth sale of numismatic books, catalogues, periodicals and related material. Quite some time has passed since my last offering - the highly successful San Jose Sale - and I wish to thank all of you who have stayed in touch during this period of inactivity. As most of you know, I now conduct the book store on a very limited basis due to my involvement in other pursuits. Hopefully, my next sale will be held in just a couple of months, as I have been fortunate in acquiring an outstanding library which should be arriving in the very near future.

The present offering contains the property of numerous consignors, and I am confident that a close perusal of the descriptions will reveal an item or two (or more) of interest to nearly everyone. The collector of modern auction catalogues will find a wide and varied assortment of emissions by most of the important dealers of the past twenty-five years. There are also two fine offerings of individual volumes of "The Numismatist," official organ of the American Numismatic Association. For the collector of periodicals, I am pleased to offer a nice run of the "Numismatic Scrapbook Magazine" from the 1940's and 1950's. For the most part, these are far above average copies, and should generate a lot of interest.

A number of unusual and possibly unique items may be found in Consignment "H," consisting of interesting pieces from the estate of the legendary Wayte Raymond. With the 1988 Olympic Games just around the corner, collectors of such memorabilia will undoubtedly be interested in lots 631 through 636.

Some customers, over the years, have expressed displeasure with my method of cataloguing mail bid sales by consignment, rather than by specialty topic. As I wrote in "The Repository" some time ago, I realize that this format is not the most desirable manner of listing lots. At the same time, it does make the entire job of putting a sale together much easier, as consignments may be catalogued as they are received, resulting in a substantial savings of time. In practice, my system is not that difficult to follow. Each consignment begins with references, followed by auction catalogues, and finally, the periodicals are listed. All titles are listed alphabetically by author. I apologize for any inconvenience my modus operandi may cause; however, restraints on my time make the method practical for me.

On a subject entirely unrelated to this sale, I would like to issue a call for research assistance. I am in the process of writing a manuscript which I hope to publish next year or in early 1989. The work will be a compendium of biographical sketches of some two hundred-fifty numismatic luminaries of the past century and a half. Because of the scope involved, the project will be limited to those collectors and dealers in the United States and Canada only. I am seeking information and photographs (which will be returned once the work is completed) of these individuals, and would greatly appreciate any help you may be able to provide. I have prepared a list of probable names to be included, and will be happy to send one to any reader who might be interested in offering a helping hand.

I now invite you to examine the lots described on the following pages, and I sincerely hope that I have offered something for everyone. Good luck to all!

Best Regards,

Cal Wilson, NLG

TERMS OF SALE

1. This is an unrestricted mail bid sale. All lots will be sold to the highest bidder. Bids are to be entered by lot number as catalogued. Bidders should feel free to bid as much as they want, realizing that all bids are treated as limits, and that all lots will be sold below these limits when competition allows. At the same time, the cataloguer reserves the right to reject totally ridiculous bids, or those bids which in his sole opinion are not entered in good faith. As a general rule, bids which fall more than fifty percent below the estimated values will not be accepted. Closing date of this sale is Saturday, November 28, 1987. Bids will be accepted until 6:00 p.m. on this date. Telephone bids will be accepted for this sale; however, under no circumstances will any bids previously received be revealed.
2. A BUYER'S PREMIUM OF TEN PERCENT (10%) WILL BE ADDED TO EACH LOT.
3. Prices estimated following each lot reflect, in the cataloguer's opinion, the current market, and are intended solely as a guide to bidders. Bidders may bid more or less as they wish: HOWEVER, ANY BIDS BELOW ESTIMATE WILL NOT BE REDUCED.
4. California state sales tax of 6½% will be added to the cost of all lots delivered within the state of California unless a valid resale number is on file with us. Likewise, sales tax of 7% will be added to the cost of all lots delivered within the BART District of the state of California.
5. Mail bid sales are not approval sales. By submitting your bids, you agree to all terms of sale stated herein. No lots may be returned without written permission, and all requests for such permission must be made in writing within three days of receipt of lots. All books are as described. We do realize that there exists the possibility of errors and typographical mistakes. Any errors on our part will be cheerfully corrected. We cannot, however, be responsible for your errors; so please check your bid sheets carefully.
6. Bidders unknown to us are required to submit credit references (trade References are acceptable), or a deposit equal to twenty-five percent (25%) of the total bids.
7. A charge of one percent (1%) per month will be added to the total price of any invoice unpaid for over thirty (30) days from the date of the invoice. Bidders will be liable for any attorney and/or court fees incurred in the collection of past due accounts.
8. There is no charge for executing your bids. However, all successful bidders will be invoiced for all postage and insurance. In addition, there will be a twenty-five cents (25¢) handling charge per lot to cover handling and packaging.
9. Terms of this sale are strictly cash, payable in United States funds. Payment is due upon receipt of invoice. Title remains with the cataloguer until paid for in full. We reserve the right to withhold delivery of lots until payment has been received by us.
10. All lots will be shipped via U. S. mail unless instructions are sent with bids, requesting alternate mode of delivery.
11. Thank you for your bids, and good luck!

Wayte Raymond is considered by many to have been the foremost numismatist of his time. Following his death in 1956, John J. Ford, Jr. penned a brief biographical sketch which appeared in the February, 1957 number of "The Numismatist."

WAYTE RAYMOND:
THE MAN AND THE ERA

Wayte Raymond, internationally renowned numismatic scholar, dealer and publisher, passed away quietly on Sunday, Sept. 23, 1956, in New York City's Roosevelt Hospital. His death culminated a struggle that he had begun almost a year earlier. In the fall of 1955, he underwent serious abdominal surgery, and was hospitalized until late winter. During April and May of 1956, his many friends were convinced that recovery was complete, and in June he left for his summer home in Montauk, at the east end of Long Island. However, almost immediately thereafter complications arose, and during the summer months he became steadily worse. His strong heart, which had survived an almost critical illness eight years before, began to fail. In July, WR lost his voice, and was thus incapacitated until his death.

Seventy years, while generally considered a generous life span, is, in retrospect, but a short period of time upon this earth for a man with a purpose. Wayte Raymond's entire life was truly dedicated to numismatics. He bore the title "Numismatist" with honor, having earned it through countless endeavors for over half a century. The achievements of no other man, however interested in our scientific hobby, can yet parallel the career of this dean of American Numismatics.

Wayte Raymond was born Nov. 9, 1886 in South Norwalk, Conn., of native New England stock. His forebears included the Prescotts of American Revolutionary fame. While a very young man he chose a banking career, and as a teller in the City National Bank of South Norwalk became interested in coins. Old and unfamiliar money regularly appeared upon bank counters shortly after the turn of the century, and WR, like many a Yankee before him, soon started to collect. On June 1, 1902, he joined the A.N.A. at the age of 16, receiving Membership No. 396. A born trader, Mr. Raymond, like so many of us, started to deal on a part time basis in an effort to enhance his collection. Finally, his numismatic interest became overpowering. With $500 borrowed from his father, a manufacturer of fine bristle brushes, Wayte Raymond came to New York City as a full time dealer. In 1912, after an unsuccessful attempt at forming a partnership to have included the equally young and exuberant B. Max Mehl, WR went it alone. He founded the United States Coin Co. with offices at 200 Fifth Ave.

Almost from the start, Wayte Raymond was progressively successful. He built his business carefully, utilizing his modest capital many times over. Feeling his way cautiously, he applied both the fixed price list and the auction sale catalog to his trade. Unlike almost all of his competitors of the period, he shied away from a "junk shop" atmosphere, refusing to handle the then popular antiquities and curiosities including autographs, Indian relics, old newspapers and stamps. Wayte Raymond, more so than any other American professional, initially attempted to deal only in fine material, the numismatic "classics" of every period, from every country.

During the early years, WR held several famous public auction sales. The first was that of the Malcolm N. Jackson collection, sold on May 20-22, 1913. Two years later, almost to the day, he offered another top-grade plate catalog, selling the famous Granberg-Woodin collection as that of "A Prominent American." This last sale featured a great many important U. S. rarities, among them the fabulous 1873 "CC" dime without arrows in mint state, purchased on the floor by dealer Rud Kohler. Now in the Eliasberg collection, this coin is the rarest regularly issued American silver piece. Also during this period, the United States Coin Co. offered William Earl Hidden's Canadian coins, the Foster Lardner and George M. Andrus collections, Dr. George French's hard times tokens and several other important consignments.

Following his interest in coin sales, Wayte Raymond turned to softer selling, directing his talents towards individual quotations and the development of a select clientele. In March, 1923, he handled the purchase and sale of the Col. James W. Ellsworth collection, a $100,000 transaction. This 2,000 piece collection contained two 1804 dollars and was the largest numismatic deal of its kind up to that time. His customers in the twenties included W. C. Atwater, Virgil Brand, John W. Garrett and Waldo C. Newcomer, among the most prolific numismatic acquirers of the decade. In short order, Mr. Raymond cultivated Col. E. H. R. Green, the millionaire eccentric son of Hetty Green, who rapidly became not only a close friend but his most important client. This friendly business relationship continued until the Colonel's death in 1936. Wayte Raymond combed the American and foreign markets for Col. Green, spending many hundreds of thousands of dollars on order, and buying entire collections to obtain a few choice specimens. During the late twenties, he traveled to Europe extensively, sometimes crossing the Atlantic twice in one year.

Uptown customers demanded an uptown address, and for a long time WR had his offices with the old Anderson (late Parke-Bernet) Galleries at 489 Park Ave. It was from here that he catalogued and sold the largest accumulation of rare Canadian coins ever brought together by a single individual, the property of W. W. C. Wilson of Montreal. This fantastic collection, also rich in Early American, Indian Peace and Canadian medals, was offered and sold in four separate sales, in 1925, 1926, 1927 and 1928. Modern numismatists interested in Canadian coins would be thrilled to own one authentic proof; many collectors and dealers have never seen an early British North American coin in that preservation. Wilson had 146 proofs, not including strict patterns. Like many a professional who started and remained a collector, Wayte Raymond had his favorite series. One of them was American colonial and Indian Peace medals, the former of great interest to Henry Chapman and even the author. In addition to the first (1925) Wilson sale, perhaps the greatest offering of this material handled by WR was the collection of Charles P. Senter of St. Louis. This little known public auction took place in 1933, at the depth of the depression.

It was during the early thirties that Wayte Raymond made one of the greatest decisions of his long career, assuming responsibility for the operation of the Scott Stamp & Coin Co.'s numismatic department. Affiliated with Scott's, and also on the third floor at 1 West 47th St., were the J. C. Morgenthau Galleries. Long an advocate of the public coin sale, Raymond made an arrangement with dealer Jim MacAllister of Philadelphia to hold numismatic auctions on the Morgenthau premises. MacAllister catalogued the consignments, while WR did the missionary work for the coins, had the catalogs printed and made all the necessary arrangements. Old-timers, and some of us who are not so old, will long remember the fruits of this partnership. The Raymond-MacAllister "Morgenthau sales" featured choice U. S. coins from old collections during the entire 13 years of their existence. They were climaxed by the sale of the Howard R. Newcomb collection in 1945, one of the most important cent offerings. In 1936, some time after his affiliation with the Scott firm, WR opened personal offices in Rockefeller Center, where he remained until late in the war years. His last New York office was located at 654 Madison Ave., which he vacated early in 1956. About 11 years ago, upon the return of Comdr. Charles M. Wormser from duty with the navy, Mr. Raymond turned over the management of the Scott Coin Dept. to the New Netherlands Coin Co.

While many successful professionals in the rare coin business have made outstanding contributions to the hobby, no one man did more for American Numismatics than did Wayte Raymond. It was WR, who in 1930 obtained the Beistle patents and created the famous National Coin album line. The actual promotion of these high-grade "penny boards" made date and proof collecting what it is today in this country. He not only pioneered the coin album, but at one time or another tried hard to create interest in various other containers, including coin holders, blocks and trays, and even small portable cabinets. However, the attainment that removed Wayte Raymond from both his predecessors and contemporaries, the efforts that could be called truly great, were his many publishing ventures.

Wayte Raymond started with a modest house organ in September, 1914, called the "United States Coin Co. Bulletin." From the beginning, he tried to educate collectors as he promoted numismatics. His first bulletin reprinted part of the scarce Haseltine type table, utilizing seven pages of space, while only a half page was spent advertising the coins referred to. As the years rolled by, WR published a "Coin & Medal Bulletin" (1916-1933), "The Coin Collector Series," a new version of the old Scott's "Coin Collector's Journal" (1934-1954), and numerous other individual and related items. From 1931 to 1933, he formulated the book that was destined to become the bible of the trade in American coins and paper money, his "Standard Catalogue." In 1934 this title appeared in sections and featured prices of individual coins; a year later it was published as a single volume, in the format familiar for twenty years. In 1938, Raymond put together the first volume of "Coins of the World," a standard text of twentieth century foreign issues. This work was soon followed by a similar book on nineteenth century coins. His United States catalog, the standard paper money book and pamphlets, and even his "Coins of the World" have found imitators, and occasional detractors, but they were the first in their fields, and it was the Raymond publications that gave the boost so desperately needed to numismatic interest in the United States.

Some of the Raymond books made money, several sold coins for him and others. Even so, a large number of his ventures were inspired missionary work, ideas and achievements that he could not hope to profit by in his lifetime. Highly representative of these were the booklets published during the past few years, each featuring scientific articles on American numismatics by such authors as Breen, Kenney, Lloyd and Newman. Few people know that Wayte Raymond sent Walter Breen, the most competent numismatic researcher in the United States, on trips to the National Archives, paid Breen a salary, paid his expenses, and published the splendid results of this work, paying Breen an author's fee for his completed manuscripts. Fewer yet understand that WR did not even realize the cost of composition for almost all of this work, much less the other expenses including all of the initial preparation and remaining printing costs.

To many, Wayte Raymond the man presented somewhat of an enigma. They did not really know him. Often called a shrewd Yankee trader, he still managed to be scrupulously fair with those he dealt with on his level. Sometimes too firm, occasionally stubbornly hard, he repeatedly insisted that the other fellow was always entitled to his share. While WR could be, and often was, extraordinarily gregarious with small groups of intimate friends, he strove hard to remain aloof from the herd of common collectors. A charter member of the somewhat exclusive New York Numismatic Club since 1908, he attended few meetings in the early days, none for the better part of his life. Always he did business by appointment, carefully choosing those he wanted to talk to and see. Perhaps part of this selectiveness was caused by the painful migraine headaches he often experienced. A portly man on the tall side, Raymond lived well. He was a generous host, a lover of fine food and liquor, beautiful books, objets d'art and luxurious surroundings. Sure of himself and his purpose, he was, nevertheless, at times, painfully shy. Not vain, he kept from almost all his membership in New York's important Kane Masonic Lodge, often called the "Explorer's Lodge," the fact that he was a Son of the Revolution, one of the first Americans to be selected to be a Fellow of the Royal Society, a Fellow of the American Numismatic Society (1917), a benefactor of the ANS (1950).

Wayte Raymond was a crusader in his own right. Highly disdainful of the baser aspects of the hobby, he quietly rebelled against cheap and misleading premium books when they were the rage, roll collectors and misinformed numismatic speculators in recent years. He put back a considerable amount of the money he took from coins, in an attempt to inform the average collector of what he knew to be fine and good. Like most self-educated men, he was always willing to learn. Never a student in the technical sense of the word, he amassed a gargantuan reservoir of knowledge concerning coins of all periods and countries. In this respect, he was on a par with the Chapman brothers and his close friend B. G. Johnson of the St. Louis Stamp & Coin Co. Conservative in both his personal and business thinking, Raymond indulged his great knowledge and experience carefully. The valuations in his catalogs reflected this conservatism, at times to an undesirable degree. He handled numerous large collections and many thousands of fine coins during his long appearance upon the American numismatic stage. Within recent memory, the Elliott Smith, Hillyer Ryder and J. P. Morgan collections come quickly to mind, but there were countless others.

Serious and secretly sensitive, at times overconscientious, the real Wayte Raymond was known to all too few. His enormous capacity for giving to those he believed deserving, the deep rooted generosity and unselfishness of the man, will never be fully known. His vivacious wife Olga, who survives him, recently reflected that "in the 40 years I lived with him, he never said a bitter word against anyone." All of the coins and collections, the publications and the labors, great as each or all might have been, none meet the test of a man more than that one sentence.

Wayte Raymond's remarkable achievements could possibly be duplicated, but his instinctive kindness, his ready chuckle, his deep sense of loyalty and decency, will be forever missed.

284. --. THE NUMISMATIC SCRAPBOOK MAGAZINE. VOL. XI. 1945. Eleven issues.
Lacking January. Fine copies. The absence of the January number is a common occurance for the 1945 volume. On the cover of this issue, the printer inadvertantly typeset the year 1944. Consequently, many collectors acquiring this volume in later years assumed that they did not obtain the correct Jan.
issue, and in many instances removed it from their sets, futilely searching for a "proper" match for the year. The correct date is printed on the title page of this issue. $25.00

CONSIGNMENT "H"

The following consignment was received from one of America's foremost numismatic scholars, and represents a rare opportunity to acquire some truly esoteric numismatic ephemera. The lots are being catalogued in no particular systematic order, but rather are being listed arbitrarily as they were unpacked upon arrival. Much of the descriptive information has been provided by the consignor. Please peruse these descriptions closely, as several of the items are exceedingly rare, if not unique.

321. Raymond, Wayte. THE STANDARD CATALOGUE OF UNITED STATES COINS-1953. Sixteenth edition. Interleaved. John J. Ford, Jr's. copy, submitted as associate editor to Wayte Raymond, with numerous changes and additions to be incorporated into the 1954 seventeenth edition. Numerous notes and memos laid or pasted in, together with extensive technical annotations and price changes written in either the text or on the interleaved pages. Includes a typed "Memorandums in Regard to Standard Catalogue," from Raymond as submitted to Messrs. Ford & Breen. Sound very good copy. A unique item from the Wayte Raymond library. $200.00

322. Frey, Albert R. & Frossard, Ed. THE COPPER COINS OF THE UNITED STATES. BEING THE ACTUAL PRICES REALIZED FOR COINS AT AUCTIONS DURING 1900-1901. VOL. I. New York, 1901. In both typed pages and in negative photostat. The photostated pages show extensive changes and annotations. A 1956 handwritten list of C.S.A. Erlanger 7% coupon bonds showing known examples of the four denominations accompanies. Apparently, publication of the manuscript by the New Netherlands Coin Co. of New York was contemplated in 1955, as most of the additions appear to be in John J. Ford's hand. Nearly 300 pages. Contains a large amount of unpublished information, much of it of great importance and value. Presumably unique. $100.00

325. Raymond, Wayte. THE STANDARD CATALOGUE OF UNITED STATES COINS-1953. A regular copy of the sixteenth edition. Walter Breen's copy (though not so identified), annotated, as submitted to Wayte Raymond. Photos and notes laid in, including a note from Ford to Raymond, and two auction record lists

414. --. BULLOWA'S COIN LIST. Philadelphia, 1949-1959. Exceptionally long run of Bullowa's monthly fixed price lists. Vol. III, No. 5 (Oct., 1949) and Volume IV, No. 8 (Jan., 1951) through VOL. XII, No. 10 (July, 1959) inclusive. All self covered, as issued. Following VOL. VII, No. 6, Mrs. Bullowa inadvertently reverted back to VOL. VI, No. 7. The mistake apparently was not noticed until the publication, a year and a half later, of "VOL. VII, No. 12." At that time, the numbering sequence was corrected. SEVENTY-FIFTH YEAR OF THE HOUSE OF SCHULMAN

With this sale the Schulman family will have been in the coin business 75 years. In 1880 my Grandfather Jacques Schulman, who had been a private collector for many years decided to engage in the coin business as a profession, limiting his personal collecting to just Dutch East Indies coins which were his favorite. His first price list was mailed from Amersfoort (near Amsterdam) in 1880. He had a reputation as an expert on Oriental coins and a vast general knowledge of coins of the world.

In 1890 the entire Schulman family moved to Amsterdam and opened a coin business at 448 Keizersgracht where a coin business is still being carried on by my cousin Jacques.

Grandfather had two sons, Mauritz (my father) affectionately known to his many friends all over the globe as "Max," and Andre (father of my cousin Jacques). Both sons took great interest in the coin business and spent all their spare time in the shop learning the trade. Max in 1891 at the age of 15 became a full fledged employee working usually until 11 each night (can you imagine an apprentice doing that today?). The entire Schulman family lived over the shop. Grandfather died in 1913 and the business was carried on by Max and Andre. Around 1913 my father began making yearly visits to America and continued them, except for war years until 1937. He made a host of friends and supplied many rare coins to such collectors as Brand, Newcomer, Wormser, Boyd, Raymond, Gibbs, Livverright and many others.

The business in Amsterdam was growing rapidly and from 1910 on was large and prosperous as one important collection after another was sold through auctions or private sales. The catalogues of many sales such as Meili, Da Silva, Castro, Grogan, Fernand, Davis, Newcomer, Moquette and many others are still used as check lists by many collectors. My uncle Andre concentrated on the European end of the business and attended all the important sales in Germany, France and England.

In 1936 Andre died too young but did miss the ordeal of the German occupation. After his death it was decided his son Jacques would open a coin business under his own name at The Hague and my father, Max, would continue in Amsterdam under the firm name "J. Schulman."

I joined my father after finishing school in 1937 and studied the business under him until 1939 when pending events "cast their shadow before" and established my own business in New York under the kind and able guidance of my Father's closest friend Wayte Raymond. I became an American citizen in 1945 and the business prospered. Things in Europe however were not good. Hitler occupied the Netherlands. My father was arrested by the Gestapo and never heard of again until recently when we learned he had been put to death in a concentration camp during July, 1943.

From this you will see that the House of Schulman with this sale are celebrating their 75th Anniversary.
